- Personal perspective: We can all reside in the presence of God daily, but it all depends on our attitude and actions. Question: do we live in obedience to God daily, always striving to live pleasing in His sight and to walk in the holiness that He Himself has called us to. If not, why not? If you are struggling to do this and would like to talk about it, let’s get together and discuss this. God wants each of us to reside in His presence and we can daily reside there.
